自己申告書

Write by hand, by yourself. For applying to the college of Global Communication, appeal your work, specialty and experiences concrete and objectively (in English, 600~800 words). Besides, explain how excellent, unique or difficult what you've done. At that time, write your ambition, and describe what you've learn or what you've experienced, and how to make use of them to the study of the college of Global Communication or extracurricular activities. If you have used any books in order to write this document, list them below, the end of this paper.

You are able to submit this document either Japanese or English. If you write in English, you don't have to submit the document titled [様式2-1].
