Notes for Applicants

1. Applicants who need special consideration or support during the entrance exam or studying on campus must consult the Office of Admission and Enrollment in advance. Failure to do so may result in us not being able to give sufficient consideration or support to such applicants during the entrance exam or studying on campus. They should therefore make sure to contact the Office of Admission and Enrollment (at global_ad@obirin.ac.jp) at least one month prior to the application.
2. We do not accept any incomplete application documents. Please also note that, in principle, application documents cannot be returned once they have been submitted.
3. Applicants may not change their choice of college, department, program, major, field, or selection method, once they have submitted their application.
4. We do not refund the examination fee once it has been paid. The entrance exam fee for applicants who reside overseas is not refundable because the refund fee may exceed it. Make sure that you meet the application requirements before submitting an application.
5. Whatever the reason may be, we do not refund admission fees, etc. once they have been paid, even if the applicant's admission or pass status is revoked.

Pass Status

1. The way to check the result of examination is on 7 at page 10. None of questions by phone or e-mail about the applicants pass/fail status and the reason of pass/fail are accepted.
2. The pass status is divided into two types: normal "pass" and "conditional pass." For details, please refer to the table below.
3. Those who have passed the exam and wish to enroll in JFOU must complete enrollment procedures by the enrollment deadline.

Majors in the College of Arts and Sciences

When submitting an application, applicants need to choose one of the areas for which they want to apply from the following 3 areas: "Humanities," "Social Sciences," and "Natural Sciences." After enrollment, you will learn many specialized basic subjects in the area chosen at the time of application.

Programs in the Department of Aviation Management, College of Business Management

The College of Business Management recruits students collectively for the Department of Business Management and the Department of Aviation Management. Applicants who wish to learn the "Airline Business Program" or "Airline Hospitality Program" will undergo program selection screening in the 2nd semester of the 1st year, and the department and program in which they are enrolled will be determined based on the results of the screening.

The study abroad program as part of the Airline Hospitality Program will take place in the 4th semester of the 2nd year.

Majors in the College of Global Communication

The Department of Global Communication in the College of Global Communication recruits students collectively for its four majors: English Major, Chinese Major, Japanese Major, and Global Studies Major. Applicants must choose, at the time of application, the principal language (English, Chinese, or Japanese*) they wish to learn after enrollment (the "Principal Language"). Applicants for the Global Studies Major also need to choose the Principle Language after their enrollment. They therefore must select one of the language Majors that is taught in the Principal Language they hope to learn at the time of application. Students aiming for each major will learn specialized subjects taught in the major's language from the second or third year.

* Applicants may not choose a major that is taught in their native or quasi-native language. If you have any questions, please contact us before applying.

Japanese Computerized Adaptive Test (J-CAT)

The score you have achieved on the J-CAT will be deemed as your official score.

Immigration Procedures for International Students

Those who apply for the student status of residence

If you wish to enter Japan as an international student, you need to obtain a student visa. While there are several methods to obtain a student visa, we have adopted the following as the most reliable one.

How to apply: JFOU will submit the Application for the Certificate of Eligibility on your behalf to the Immigration Services Agency of Japan and inform you of the results of the application. After the receipt of the Certificate of Eligibility, you need to apply for a visa at the Embassy of Japan, Consulate General of Japan, or Office of Consul of Japan that has jurisdiction over the country or region you reside in.

* Details will be informed separately to successful applicants.

If you have received admission offers from other universities or institutions, you should make sure not to apply multiple times for the Certificate of Eligibility. If you do so, the Certificate of Eligibility will not be issued.

It takes approximately one and half to two months to receive the Certificate of Eligibility. Please be aware that if you take too long to complete necessary procedures, you may not enter Japan in time.

General Information (Undergraduate)

Academic Fees

- * Students who sign up for the teacher-training course will need to pay other expenses in addition to the academic fees.
- * Students who take certain subjects will incur separate expenses for educational materials, etc.
- * Students may incur separate expenses to obtain qualifications.
- * For the academic fees for the College of Aviation Management, please see the JFOU website.

The JFOU Scholarship for Privately-funded International Students is available to those who are eager to learn and well-qualified, and have a plan for future achievements and self-confidence that they can serve as a model for other students.

1 Overview of the Scholarship

The Scholarship for Privately-funded International Students covers 10-100% of tuition by paying the amount as part of academic fees by their payment deadline date. Please be aware that no direct payments are made to scholarship students. The amount of tuition reduction will be determined after a comprehensive selection process based on the candidate's grades, language ability, extracurricular activities, interview, etc. The amount of tuition reduction will be notified on the "My Page for Admission" on the day of the results announcement.

- (1) Amount of the scholarship: An amount equal to 10-100% of tuition (excluding the examination fee, enrollment fee, facility and equipment fee, experiment and practice cost, education enhancement fee, graduation fees, etc.)
 - * The facilities and equipment fee, etc. should be paid using a payment slip, which is mailed from the Financial Management Division in May (October for fall semester entrants) each year.
- (2) Scholarship award period: In principle, the scholarship is awarded for a period not exceeding the course term and provides for 10-100% of tuition for up to a maximum of eight semesters.

To maintain their eligibility for the scholarship, recipients must submit an "Academic and Living Situations Report" and undergo a continuous eligibility review every semester. This procedure is called the "reporting of academic and living situations." To maintain the eligibility for the scholarship, recipients must meet the criteria for the continuous eligibility for the scholarship as stipulated under item 3 below.

2 Qualifications to Apply for the Scholarship

Scholarship applicants must meet the qualifications listed under items (1) through (4) below. Please check and understand these qualifications before submitting an application.

- (1) You have (or are expected to have) the "student" status of residence;
- (2) You receive an average monthly allowance (excluding the amount for academic fees) of less than 90,000 yen;
- (3) If you have a dependent staying in Japan, his/her annual income is less than or equal to the income standard for the Type II scholarships provided by the Japan Student Services Organization; and
- (4) If you receive a grant and/or scholarship from another organization, the monthly amount is less than 100,000 yen.
 - * Recipients are not eligible to be awarded another scholarship from JFOU. (However, this does not apply to "学群奨学金" and emergency grants due to disasters, etc.)
 - * Recipients are not eligible to be recommended for the Monbukagakusho Honors Scholarship for Privately-funded International Students.

3 Reporting of Academic and Living Situations

Students who receive the Scholarship for Privately-funded International Students must make a report on their academic and living situations by the end of each semester.

- Submission deadline: The last day of each semester (September 15th for spring semester; March 15th for fall semester)
 - * If the last day of semester falls on a weekend or public holiday, the deadline will be moved to the day before the weekend or public holiday.
- Documents to be submitted: Academic and Living Situations Report (Fill in a prescribed form.)
- Address to submit: Student Support Team, Administrative Office, Machida Campus (email: gaku_sho@obirin.ac.jp)

4 Criteria to Maintain Eligibility for the Scholarship

Recipients must undergo the continuous eligibility review at the end of each semester. To remain eligible for the scholarship, recipients must meet the criteria below.

- (1) Submit the Academic and Living Situations Report by specified deadlines;
- (2) It is reported in the Academic and Living Situations Report that the recipient has maintained a cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) of 3.0 or higher (out of a perfect score of 4.0) since his/her enrollment; and
- (3) The total number of credits earned by the recipient by the end of each semester is equal to or larger than the number of credits shown in the table below.

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Total credits to be earned by the end of semester	16	32	48	64	80	96	112

* Even if the recipient meets the criterion for the total number of credits to be earned in each semester, he/she is required to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher and register one or more courses in each semester to remain eligible for the Scholarship.

5 Suspension of Scholarship

The payment of the scholarship will be suspended during a leave of absence. The amount suspended during the leave of absence will be carried over and paid after the return of the recipient. However, in principle, students are not allowed to take a leave of absence once a new semester begins.

6 Discontinuation of Scholarship

If a recipient falls under any of the following, his/her eligibility for the scholarship will be discontinued and no scholarship will be awarded during that period.

- (1) The recipient fails to make a report on his/her academic and living situations by the date specified;
- (2) The recipient fails to meet the required academic performance criteria;
- (3) The monthly average amount of allowance (excluding the amount for academic fees) received by the recipient is in excess of 90,000 yen;
- (4) The amount of annual income of the recipient's dependent staying in Japan is in excess of the income standard set by the Japan Student Services Organization for the Type II scholarships;
- (5) The recipient fails to register any courses (except for programs specified by JFOU for exchange students, etc.); or
- (6) The recipient fails to pay academic fees by due date.

7 Revocation of Scholarship (Loss of Scholarship Eligibility)

If a recipient falls under any of the following, he/she will lose his/her eligibility for the scholarship and no longer receive the payment of the scholarship.

- (1) The recipient has lost his/her student status at JFOU for early graduation, withdrawal, or other reasons;
- (2) The recipient continues to be enrolled beyond the term of study;
- (3) The total length of the discontinuation period is in excess of two semesters. (Three times of discontinuation will result in the revocation.);
- (4) The recipient is awarded a scholarship from JFOU or another organization with the amount equal to or greater than 100,000 yen;
- (5) The recipient has lost the "student" status of residence;
- (6) The recipient is suspended from JFOU as a disciplinary action; or
- (7) The recipient made a false statement in his/her application form and other documents submitted.
- (8) Beyond the reasons listed above, the recipient is deemed inappropriate as a privately-financed scholarship student.

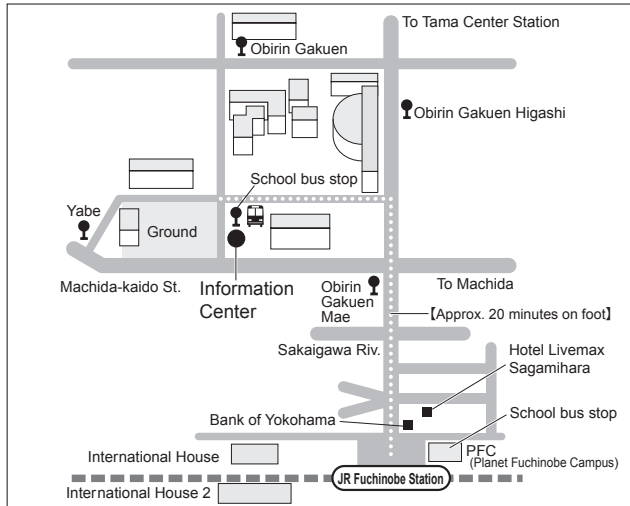

If you wish to transfer to a different college, program, or specialization, please be sure to check with the Student Support Team, Administrative Office, Machida Campus to see if it is possible to transfer while maintaining your scholarship status.
